

Family Violence Contact Officers

Family Violence Contact Officers play an integral role in Council's commitment to providing support for staff involved in or experiencing domestic or family violence.

The Family Violence Contact Officer's role is intended to provide confidential and impartial information and referral information to staff who have inquiries or would like to understand some of their options on Family Violence related matters.

All Family Violence Contact Officers have been trained on Council Family Violence support programs, referrals and privacy.

Confidentially discussing Family Violence matters with a Contact Officer will have no impact on your employment with Council and no information will be recorded on your file in relation to the discussion or the matters raised.
